

Wishing you a Merry Christmas Jumper

These festive and joyful days are also a time for dreaming, but many children are struggling to cope with all the difficulties caused by the conflict and their imagination suffers.

After watching the video 'I Dream', invite your students to design a Christmas card that includes the elements they think are essential to show their support for so many thousands of children, with elements of hope and peace.

You can do the activity individually, in pairs or groups and you can use digital media or the template below; invite your students to share these greetings with their peers to send their holiday greetings and support to child victims of conflict.

Send us a picture of your christmas jumper greetings! We will be happy to share the image of your cards so that many other schools can see them.

And finally, they can complete their Christmas Jumper card with the help of their family members.
