

Wishing you a Merry Christmas Jumper

These festive and endearing days are also a time for dreaming, but many children cannot because the lack of a nutritious diet get them without imagination.

In order to show their support for thousands of children with lack of food because they live in areas where they suffer from floods and conflicts, invite your students to design a Christmas card that includes the elements that they think are essential.

You can do the activity individually, in pairs or groups. You can use digital media or the template below. Invite your students to share their holiday greetings and support to the most vulnerable children.

Send us a picture of your Christmas jumper greetings! We would love to share it with other schools.

And finally, they can complete their Christmas Jumper card with the help of their family.
